

"The plain fact is that the planet does not need more successful people. But it does desperately need more peacemakers, healers, restorers, storytellers, and lovers of every kind.

It needs people who live well in their places. It needs people of moral courage willing to join the fight to make the world habitable and humane. And these qualities have little to do with success as we have defined it."

- David W. Orr, Ecological Literacy: Educating Our Children for a Sustainable World

He asked of me why it was raining He asked was it tears from the sky And I replied yes That this was the case That even the heavens can cry

He asked of me what was the thunder He said it was hurting his ears And I told him that sometimes Even the clouds Need to scream so that somebody hears

He asked of me what was the wind And why was it whirling and swirling around So I explained even the sky Takes deep breaths When it's trying to calm itself down

Yet often, we keep our tears secret And we swallow our own cries for help And we think that it's weak To be catching our breath So we don't let our struggles be felt

And yet, if the clouds never emptied If the sky never screamed through the storm It would sit growing darker And darker until It was simply no use to us all

So throw all your fears to the wind dear And toss all your tears to the clouds And you will discover The infinite power The heavens hold over the ground

See, it's normal and natural to struggle And it's healthy and human to cry And if anyone questions Your power my darling Just tell them it's matched by the sky

If you see someone wearing camouflage, make sure to walk right into them so they know it's working

Have a terrific week!

Blessings to you all!
